

Eric Yankwitt, Esq.
MyTaxGuru LLC

Checking Your Federal Refund Status Is Easy

If you have already filed your federal tax return and are due to receive a refund, you can check the status of your refund online. \(Read More\)

Can't Pay Your Taxes by the April Due Date?

If you aren't one of those lucky Americans who gets a tax refund from the IRS you might be wondering about your options for paying off your tax liability by the April due date. \(Read More\)

What Makes a Great CEO? Personality, Perseverance and Perspective

If you ever wanted proof that quality company leadership is critical to an organization's success, look no further than the old saying of "people don't quit their jobs. They quit their leaders." \(Read More\)

Tax Reform Puts a Cap on Deducting Business Losses

Under the Act, deductible business losses of noncorporate taxpayers will be limited beginning in 2018. Many have misconstrued this new law to mean that no losses are allowed. \(Read More\)

Living Abroad? Here Is How Tax Reform May Affect You

If you are an expatriate living abroad, you may be wondering how the provisions of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) will impact you. This is the most extensive tax change in over 30 years, and although it was touted as tax simplification when it was in the planning stages, nothing was simplified related to U.S. citizens and resident aliens working abroad. The following is an overview of how things will play out for you beginning in 2018. \(Read More\)

Tax Reform Limits Exchanges to Defer Taxes

Whenever you sell business or investment property and have a gain, you generally have to pay tax on the gain at the time of sale. In the past, the tax code provided an exception and allowed you to postpone paying tax on the gain if you reinvested the proceeds into similar property as part of a qualifying like-kind exchange. These types of exchanges are commonly called Sec. 1031 exchanges (referring to the tax code section that allows them). These rules have applied to real estate, cars, farm animals and other business and investment items that are like-kind property. (Read More)

Is Bunching Right for You?

The Act increased the standard deduction and placed new limitations on itemized deductions. Beginning with 2018 tax returns, the standard deductions will be: (Read More)

Cryptocurrencies and Taxes

As our world has become more and more “digital,” it was only a matter of time before cryptocurrencies were developed. One of the first of these virtual currencies was Bitcoin, and the Bitcoin network came online in 2009. Since then, additional cryptocurrencies have been developed. (Read More)

QuickBooks Tip: Get Paid Faster Using QuickBooks

Are your customers slow about paying their invoices? QuickBooks can help accelerate your receivables. (Read More)
